It would be expected that successful candidates begin work in the fall semester of 2020. A review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. The job is located in Kabul, Afghanistan.

Position Summary

This regular faculty appointment is a full-time, nine-month, non-tenure-track faculty position, three-year renewable, with the potential to be converted to a multi-year position. Teaching responsibilities include a four teaching load consisting of intermediate and advanced level English language courses. In addition to teaching and mentoring, AUAF faculty responsibilities include scholarship and university service.

Key outcomes include:

- International quality teaching and learning
- Scholarship that benefits student learning and the mission of the university
- Advancement of the university through service

Duties and Responsibilities

Faculty fulfil the roles and responsibilities described in the Faculty Handbook and university policies and procedures that detail specific faculty duties. Major responsibilities are listed below.

With the exception of holidays, university closures, weekends, and other breaks, faculty are expected to be working on campus in Afghanistan during the base contract period. The base contract period refers to an academic year consisting of two semesters, including pre- and post-semester faculty workshops and advising. The contractual period extends from one week before the start of the first semester to one day after spring graduation, which full-time faculty are required to attend.

Teaching and Mentoring

- Teach up to four pre-university non-credit courses (12-15 contact hours) per semester, evaluating student work and assessing student learning outcomes.
- Participate in weekly team meetings.
- Hold regular office hours and work with individual students, acting as academic mentors.
- Remain engaged and current in the field.
- Assist in orientation and test administration.

Scholarship

- Remain scholarly active, contributing scholarship that goes beyond professional engagement to include the creation of intellectual products that are available to internal and/or external audiences.

University service

- Contribute to the overall well-being and development of the university.
- Service to the university includes both internal activities and external outreach on the behalf of the institution.
- Service can take many forms, including fostering collegiality, participating in the life of the university, assisting in curriculum review, participating actively in committee work, developing the capacity of external stakeholders on the behalf of AUAF, consulting and grant-writing for the university and service to the external community.

Requirements:

- PhD in TESOL or PhD in Education with TESL certification.
  - Specialization in assessment or curriculum development a plus
- Minimum of five (5) years teaching experience teaching in western higher education and evidence of excellence in university teaching.
- Excellent oral and written English skills.
- Publications or evidence of professional engagement.
- Experience teaching in international, multicultural, developing and/or post-conflict settings preferred.
- Ability to work in a team.
- Experience teaching oral skills
- A strong sense of values and ethics, consistent with the mandate of the American University of Afghanistan.
- Demonstrated experience with Canvas, AUAF's learning management system.

Benefits and Environment

This is an exceptional opportunity to work at a recently formed university in an emerging and rapidly changing society.

The American University of Afghanistan offers a generous benefits package that includes a competitive salary, air transportation, university-provided accommodation, and paid international health care insurance for international employees.

International faculty and staff live and work on AUAF's 50-acre main campus or the 5-acre campus across the street. The AUAF campuses utilize state-of-the-art security infrastructure and protocols and are protected by a large professional security corps. Transportation between the adjacent campuses or to approved locations and the airport is by armored, guarded vehicles.

To Apply

To apply, please send as a single PDF document: a cover letter, curriculum vitae (CV), statement of teaching purpose, and contact information for three references to jobs@auaf.edu.af Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Please, include AF-Int-30-2020 Instructor/Assistant/Associate Professor of English as a Second Language in the subject line of the email, otherwise, the application will not be considered.
